INTRODUCTION

In the shadow of overwhelming guilt for the everyday privileges we enjoy, while people are being killed, while children are hungry while parents are mourning their children, while the world is watching, while they are abandoned to die, this blog arises as a testament to the resilience of Palestinians facing unimaginable challenges.

Our goal is to shed light on their untold narratives of strength and hope, standing shoulder to shoulder against all odds, amplify voices often silenced, fostering empathy and understanding in the pursuit of justice and dignity for Palestine.

PROBLEMATICS

1

Unclear focus

Bouncing around topics confuses readers.

2

Bad user experience

Slow loading, clutter, or hard navigation frustrates readers

3

Outdated content

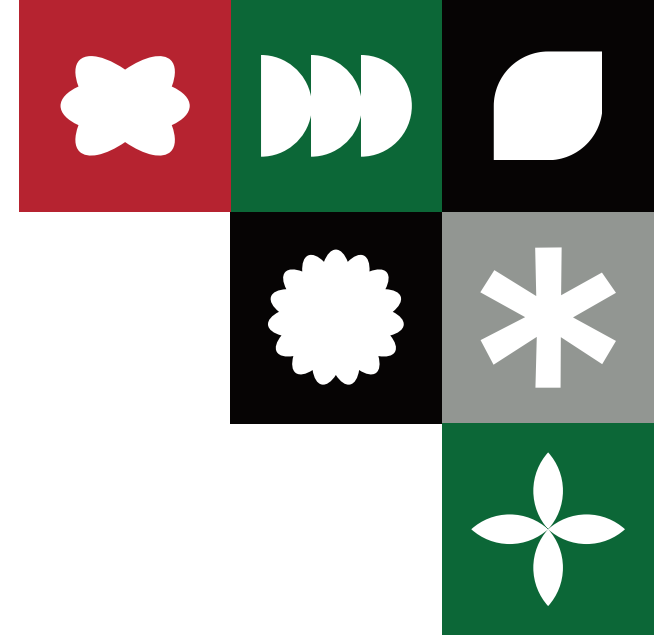

Stale information loses reader trust.

4

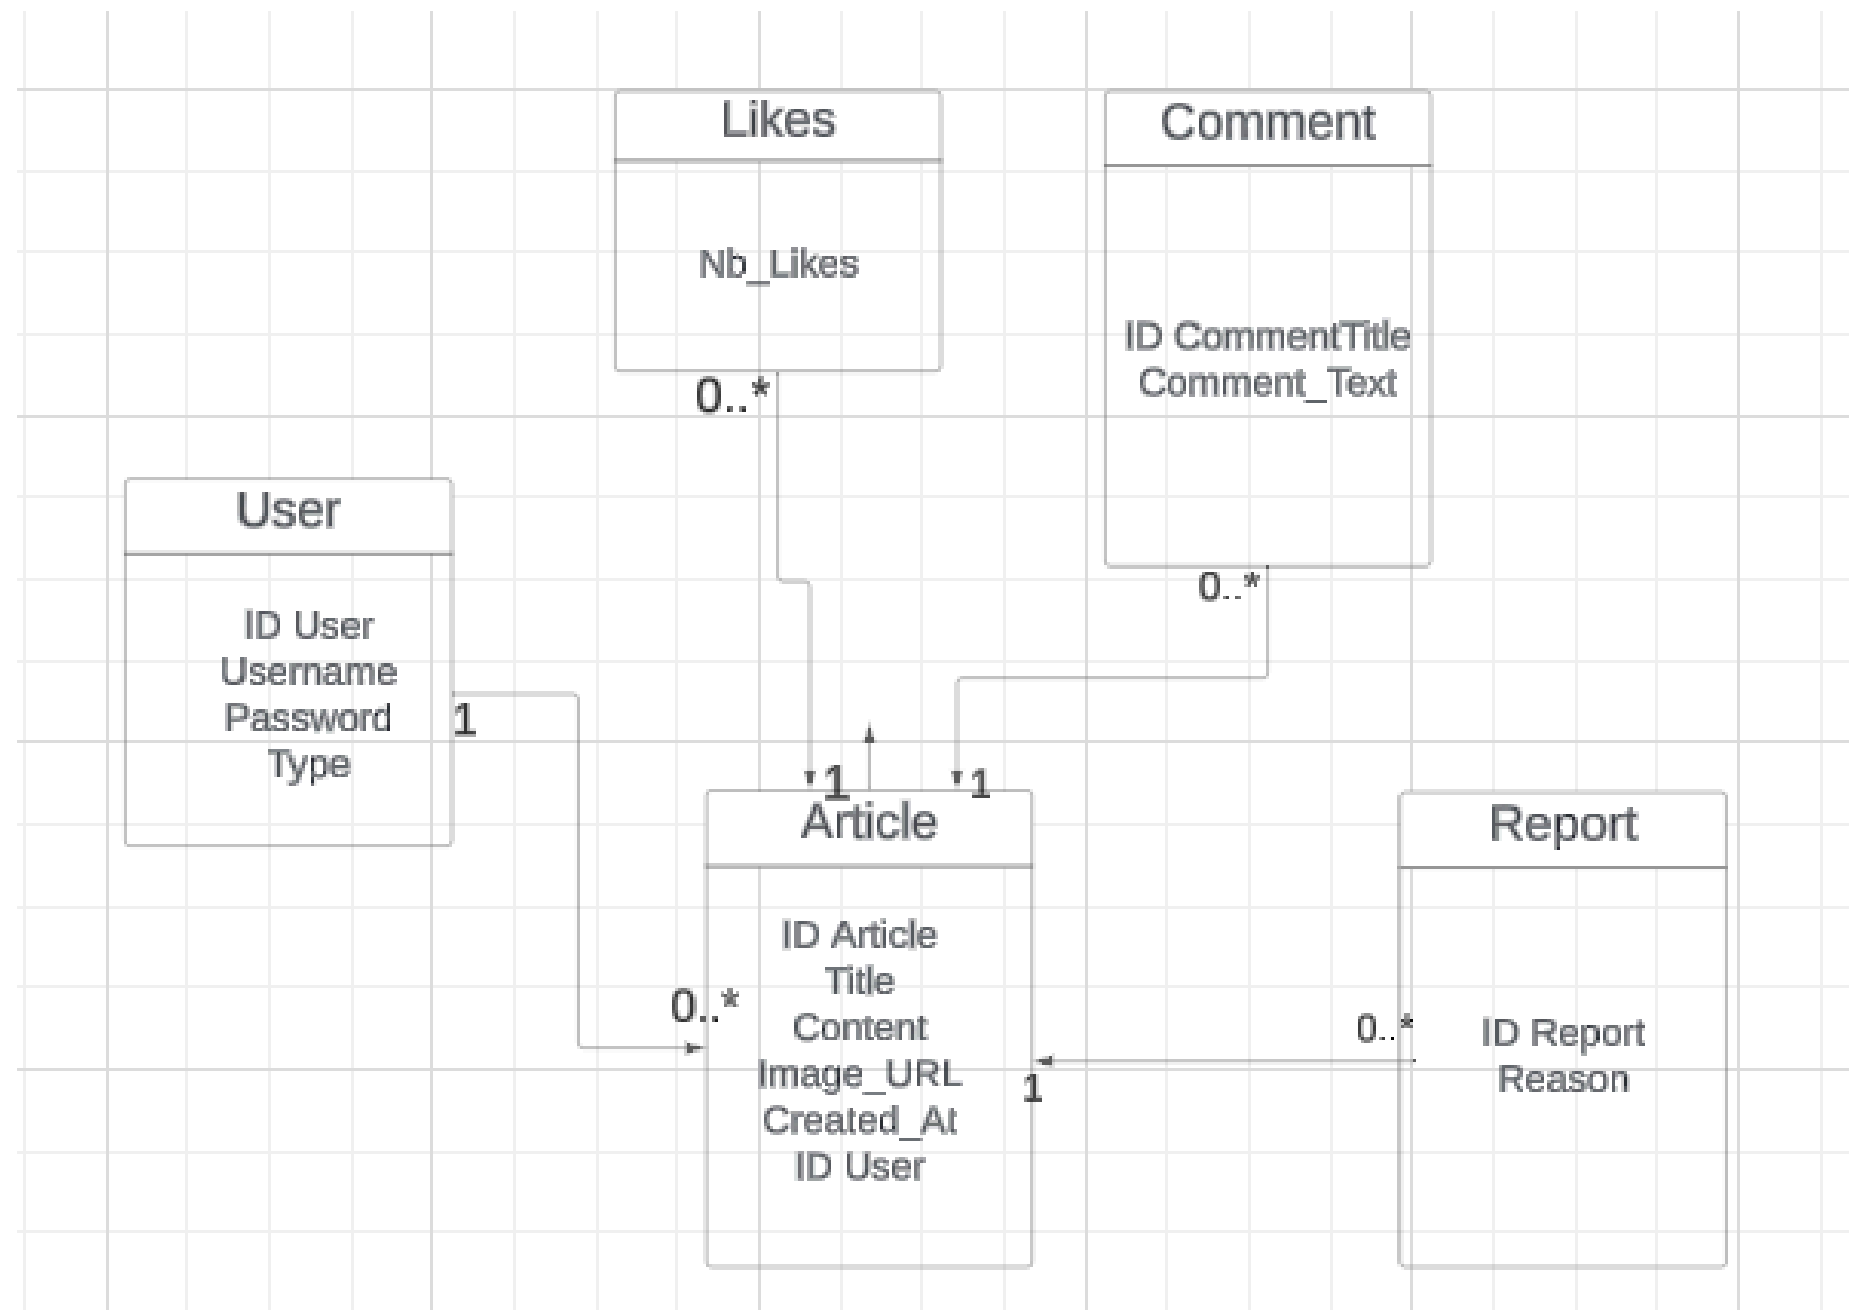

No engagement

One-way communication kills interest

Hello, my name is Rowan Katba, I'm fundraising for my family in Gaza upon their request. As the relentless attacks on Gaza continue, I come to you with a heavy heart to ask for help in evacuating my cousins Mahmoud, Mohamed, Yousef Katba and their mother Thouraya.
